Club Members "Sold!" On Pin Auction At April Meeting

By Jim O'Bryant

31.00 GOING ONCE ...GOING TWICE...
SOLD TO #5!"

Hey, that's my number!!! I should have never asked my wife to hold my number. That's right, she paid $31.00 for the new Crescent City Kite Fliers pin.

allow the club to do lots of fun things in the coming year. I'd like to acknowledge all those who donated or swapped pins for the auction. Your willingness to participate played a huge part in the success of this event.

See "Pin Auction" page 6"

Our monthly meeting started out well with warm weather and lots of wind. After lunch the meeting was called to order and the upcoming events and the July elections were discussed, followed by the RAFFLE. Thanks to all who donated to the raffle especially KITES ETC. of Newport, for the "BALBOA BULLET" kite.

Action packed auction

Now back to the AUCTION. Having attended several AKA conventions and seeing how the loud auction process works, I had great hopes for ours. What actually occurred exceeded those expectations. Those mild mannered kite fliers I spend my Saturdays flying with started a "Feeding Frenzy" bidding on pins. Whew! the dust settled, the pins were gone and I stood there with $311.50 in my hand. WOW, what a day for the S.D.K.C. Twenty five or so members had bid on 44 items (pins, patches, buttons, and iron-on transfers). Believe me kite clubs, if you need to generate cash, this will do it for you.

Thanks to all who helped me with this event. Roger McComb, our auctioneer and Ron Despojado, his assistant, did a great job. To all those members who spent way too much for pins, THANKS, the money will

SDKC's Newsletter Makes News!!

The front page article of AKA's May/ June issue of "Kiting" titled "Cream of The Crop- The Makings of a Great Club Newsletter" reviewed the best kite club newsletters around the country. Author Richard Dermer lists his top ten and our "Skylines" has been recognized as one of the best. Though he states there was "no attempt at ranking" ours was listed at the top of the list!! In reviewing ours, he writes "... lots of original material and event write-ups. What can you expect from such a hotbed of activity?"

We knew they had good taste!

Whispers on the air

Greetings from the White Apartment!

This is the First Lady reporting. Fred is very busy with work again and also with the festival meetings so he asked me to prepare his message. So here it goes!

Elections are soon, we need nominations. If you have any interest in becoming an officer or being on the board, please be heard!! New people bring new ideas. New ideas are always welcome. Sometimes new thoughts are expressed at meeting but unfortunately forgotten. So please if you would like to see any changes, become a board member or at least come to a board meeting. We would like to hear what you have to say.

Celebration Of The Bay, this is our chance to show ourselves off. There will be many people at the park who do not usually go. So let's get together, bring your high flyers and show San Diego what we're about. We are receiving sponsorship from radio station Q106. As of press time, we do not know to what extent. The club will be selling hot dogs, cold drinks, and nachos for our treasury. Any assistance would be appreciated. We will also need safety people. Plan to come early since parking might be a problem.

Luau!! Remember June 11th! We need more people- it's going to be a great time.

Keep 'em flying!

Hillary Diana (Moo)

LUAU ALERT!

Dust off your grass skirt, muu-muu (or is it MOO-MOO?) Hawaiian shirt, & raincoat

Luau, Luau, Luau, Luau!!!! It's that time again. I only have 53 people signed up. Last year I had 82 people attending! Members, June 11th is the day, Dusty Roads Park is the place, and 12:30 is the time dinner will be served. In the remote possibility of rain we will meet at the recreation center at Robb Field across from Dusty Roads so we can still enjoy ourselves and still be dry! Pit roasted pig, polynesian chicken, Maui fried rice, fruit salad, Hawaiian egg bread & butter, peach cobbler and punch will be served. Enter-tainment will be provided while we dine and a tail grab to top off the afternoon. The cost is $9.00 a person. The caterers told me a number count has to be given by no later than June 6th! So, there is plenty of time. Please call Diana Martin at (619)738-7013 to make reservations!! I will also be at our Celebration of the Bay Festival for 2 days. Please come and enjoy a great time with friends, flying, and great food.-- Diana Martin

ROCK THE

Inside this edition of "Skylines" includes a ballot for the next term of officers. As you can see, each position has a space for a write-in candidate. If you want to run for office and your name isn't on the ballot, you have until our July meeting to do some "glad-handing" and "schmoozing" to get supporters. There is also a possibility that enough of you out there think alike and can volunteer someone else for a position.

After making your selection fold, seal, add a stamp, and mail it to the address on the back or else give it to one of the present officers, or bring it to one of our meetings.

Get involved with your club and vote.

Do you have a small news article that we should know about? Let your fellow members know by sending it to us for the upcoming newsletter.

KITE FEST '94

By Walt Thompson

On the

SAND, NORTH OF THE HUNTINGTON BEACH pier, a group gathered to play with the wind Saturday April 23rd and Sunday April 24th. Kite Connection of Huntington Beach sponsored KITE FEST 94. Dave Shenkman, the cool owner was the mastermind for this event.

Dave had said his store was on the sand north of the pier and it really is on the sand. He shares a building with Sonny's (a fast food boutique?) that the City placed on the sand and you look down at it from the pier and ground level. A rather different store location and close to the action. Kite rentals are available and the store has been there 2 years. I like the idea of going to where the people are and it is relaxing to loaf around and people watch.

Floating about an octopus

I was expecting a typical kite festival and this started out with good winds from the south. Flying a 14 foot DC in the third field, which was set aside for single line kites, was relaxing and interesting as I watched my DC float about a George Peters Octopus. Over by field two, J.R. Tolman from Northern California had set up a free kite building pavilion for kids. Flyers were casually practicing for demos. The sun was out and joyfully shining, the sky and sea were beautiful blue colors, nothing to indicate the drama to come.

After the Open Kite Flying for All, J.R. had a motley crew of 30 little kids and as many of us adults place about 75 small paper kites that we built (same as the little kids) into a long train. When it lifted off and flew we all howled with glee and everyone had a smile as the train flew high in the sky.

Over the two days, more than 500 people were counted by Dave and his cohorts. Scott Dyer from Las Vegas and Mike Greenholtz from Salt Lake City came to demo Kite Buggy stuff. Fred and Diana Martin were gathering information and kibitzing as usual while Ron Despojado prepared for his demo and giving flying lessons. Dom Smith of Top of the Line kites was another member of the San Diego contingent there. Dom demoed dual line kites and gave lessons. A good indicator was that 50 plus new kite flyers learned the basics of dual and quadline flying. Pretty impressive.

Serious fun

Demos started and serious kite flying began. The String Fellows, a 4-man team from Riverside were good. John Barressi flew several different routines that all level of watchers could enjoy. He is 18 and getting better and now he says he will retire this year. Retire at 18?

Its always fun to go out and play in someone else's backyard.

Huntington Beach:

The Dream Team is assembled

The Dream Team, an on-the-spot quadline team of Ron Despojado, John Barressi, Larry Mixon (yes- SDKC's Larry Mixon) and area local Tom Skokes started an impromptu routine. After a bit only Ron and John were left and they flew a beautiful pairs routine. Probably the two best Rev flyers on the west coast flying together for the first time, yet giving a great performance.

Who caught the kiss?

Ron was in great form that day. When he pulled out his white Rev with the woman's face on it (his "Stephanie" Rev) I watched and expected the usual. The routine was fantastic. People stopped on the beach and pier and listened to Whitney Houston on the PA while Ron performed his artistry. Spectators on the pier applauded loudly and Ron threw them a kiss. On the beach, we were still applauding long after he finished. Beautiful!

Sadistic winds

The wind started shifting direction and increasing in speed. The Zephyr was coming in. I had gone down to the hard packed sand to watch Scott and Mike demo the buggys. The life guards were there and finally called off the waiting buggy pilots. "Too much wind" the captain said. It was only blowing in at 19 mph with gusts to 26. But "no" was the answer. Someone had set up a mobile weather station and I sauntered over to check out the wind. A large canvas cabana flew by. It was about 12' x 15' and 10' high. While some fliers were chasing it I was wondering if I could bridle it with my 300# line and fly it. The sand grains were pelting people's legs and those with shorts or sensitive skin moved off the beach.

A large canvas cabana flew by

There were a few flyers and it was eerie because the sandstorm was layered and they were visible from the belt line up and seemed disembodied.

Sunday the Open Flying was awful. Winds in the 30s and the windchill dropped like crazy. This was such a contrast to Saturday morning. Dave had heard that these were the highest winds in the last 19 years. When the wind speed hit 37 mph I decided to wrap it up and head back to San Diego. Barbara and I had a great time and the rapidly changing weather was exciting even with the Saturday night rain to dirty the car.

A lot of fun was had by most. I recommend you go out of town and see other events in Southern California or elsewhere. Many are a short drive from San Diego and provide a different setting with new friendships to make.

Instant Replay-- An Auction Highlight

By Ron Despojado

At one time during the bidding frenzy, Lily Quidachay "upped" her own bid. Lily and I were the last two bidding on a certain pin. She bid "4 dollars!" This was point was where I reached my monetary limit so I just repeated her bid and yelled "...4 dollars!" and she quickly said "4 & a quarter!".

"$ 4.25 going once... twice...SOLD!". A few in the crowd caught on and chuckled and I felt guilty for a few seconds, then had to laugh too.

Sorry Lily, I'll pay you that quarter next time I see you.

To the San Diego Kite Club,

In recent weeks I have received numerous comments that the club has become "too political", and that the newsletter is "too opinionated" and has become a forum for "bashing". If you don't want to read another opinion then skip this and enjoy the rest of the newsletter, I won't be pffended; if you are interested in the big picture as one member sees it, read on.

As one of the earliest members I have seen the club grow from a simple idea of people getting together with a common interest, to the fastest growing (at the time) kite club in the nation, to nearly disbanding, to its present form of a strong and solid club that appears to be here to stay. Our leadership has always kept the interests of the club in mind- and that leadership has worked tirelessly. Like a duck swimming in water, what you see happening on the surface is hardly an indication of what's happening behind the scenes. Events are planned for the enjoyment of the members and not for any one particular person. The club has always tried to cater to the entire membership, but of course cannot please everyone. If there is an event you would like to see- SPEAK UP! GET INVOLVED!

Many people, including myself, are of the philosophy of "Don't complain if you don't want to get involved." As far as the club being "too opinionated", we are a club made up of individuals with individual opinions. For all to have the same opinion would be boring. The direction we take- whether it be more fighter kite events, kite making seminars, social events, competitive events, or an out of town sojourn- depends on the strongest push from within the club. Just remember we're here to have fun, but an organization as large as ours has real world issues to deal with such as money, insurance, and liability, to mention a few.

Support your club by attending the meetings, whether be the monthly general meeting or Board of Directors Meeting. If you say you have no time to get involved, it's usually a matter of wanting to make time. It's been a while since we've seen some of you (YOU KNOW WHO YOU ARE). Maintain

The San Diego Kite Club welcomes and encourages feedback from all members. All entries to be published must be signed however names will be withheld upon request.

From Diana Martin

I want to take this time to thank Walt (Thompson, AKA District 12 Representative) for the award given to me at the last meeting. The cow was great!! I just want everyone to know that I really do have a good time doing this, and the reason why is all the great people in the kite club. You really do make it all worth while. Your response to everything planned is wonderful. I will continue to do special events (if elected) next year. Any suggestions are welcome and I will try to plan some different things. So, once again, thank you all.

Easter hops in with pancakes

There's been talk of renaming the club to "The San Diego Kite and Culinary Arts Club"

Pancakes anyone? Boy what a life. Pancakes, sausage, hash browns, scrambled eggs, and orange juice served out at the flying field. A really great way to start off your Easter weekend. April 2nd was our first pancake breakfast and it was quite a success.

Thirty four members shared in the good food and many more joined us to fill the sky with highflyers. The weather cooperated and made it a really nice day. I want to thank everyone that came for the breakfast since it was the first time this was tried. I have plenty of pancake mix left over so maybe we can have a pancake drop! Just kidding.-- Diana Martin

P.S. I'm surprised we didn't have to hunt for the scrambled eggs.--Ed.

Uno de Mayo, Numero Dos

(The first of May, Number two)

Pot lucks are great! Aren't they!! Our second Uno de Mayo day showed once again what great cooks we have in our kite club. Enchiladas, tamale pies, taco salads, chili rellanos, burritos, beans, chili, chicken, desserts, potato salad and yes even mexican deviled eggs (they had a tortilla chip in them). This was some of the great food that was served. Approximately 50 members attended our first Sunday event. Johnny Hsuing and his wife came down from the L.A. area with his fighter kites. It was great to see him. Fighter kites, high flyers and stunt kites filled our flying field. What a great way to spend a Sunday. Right?-- Diana Martin

Messages

from the Vice-President

Recently I was questioned by a S.D.K.C. member as to how the promoter for the Moorpark Kite Festival had access to his name and address. As it turns out they got it from us, the S.D.K.C. We don't give out the list often, but if an event comes up not listed on our calendar, rather than have you miss it, we supply the list. I don't think any of us had given it much thought in the past but it might be important to some of you. If you object to your names being given out, we understand and request that you let us know. Every effort will be made to ensure your information is not given out in the future. Please contact Larry Morgan, Membership Chairman (619)575- regarding this matter.

Vice President
